

Presentation

We are honored to deliver to the reader the edition for the second semester of 2019 of the Academic Journal of the Higher School of the Public Ministry of Ceará, seeking as always to address interesting and relevant topics for the legal and academic environment.

In a scenario of constant changes in the legal environment, represented by changes in jurisprudential understandings and legislative changes, the deepening of reflections and studies is more than necessary, if not indispensable for the best performance of professionals who upholds the law in the country.

In this issue we have themes covering the influence of the media on criminal law, the Italian anti-mafia experience, transparency in public accounts, the legal nature of marriage, the dark side of corruption to the welfare state, the theory of deliberate blindness, copyright in musical works, international legal cooperation and cybercrime in Belarus, cryptocurrency tumbler and its legality, independence of the prosecutor in the Bahamas Commonwealth, criminal compliance of legal entities in Argentina, international legal cooperation in the field of financial crimes, motherhood in prison, and finally environmental responsibility.

International legal articles come from authors from Argentina, the Commonwealth of the Bahamas, Belarus, and Croatia; In Brazil, the academic contributions are from the states of Ceará, Pernambuco and Sergipe, as well as from the Federal District.

Our Academic Journal has two versions: electronic and print, in order to reach as many readers as possible.

Feel welcome to submit your legal article for our next issues.

Good reading!
